ACCREDITATION

St. Mary Catholic High School is accredited by AdvancEd. The elementary and middle schools are accredited by the Wisconsin Council of Religious and Independent Schools (WRISA). The schools are also a member of the National Catholic Educational Association (NCEA) and WRISA.

SMCS teachers, specialists and aides meet the requirements of the Diocesan Foundation Catechetical Certification process and are licensed educators, and all teachers and specialists hold a bachelor's degree or higher.

In the summer of 2018, The SMCS Board of Trustees Marketing Committee embarked on a mission to assist in creating the key components of our mission, vision, values, promise and tagline. This committee is comprised of SMCS staff, trustee members, parents and local marketing professionals.

The goal was to create a comprehensive plan, which would clearly communicate who we are. Several key stakeholders were directly involved in the creation. It was an extremely collaborative effort and represents our shared vision.

With stronger messaging, our community will gain a far better understanding of all the remarkable things taking place in our SMCS community. Students, alumni, families, faculty, staff and parishioners can all join in sharing personal experiences which first hand illustrate the mission and commitment to developing students who make a difference in our communities.

Each student is fortunate to receive a very strong foundation which remains with them as they move forward in life. Our entire system touches so many lives in very special ways. It is important we bring the opportunity to share in our mission to give our community the best chance possible at future success.

SMCS Board of Trustee member, Lori Vegso '80, organized the effort. "SMCS is a fantastic, faith-filled system and we want people to know it, share it, and celebrate it! Our opportunity is to more clearly and consistently articulate who we are and what we stand for," said Vegso. "With this improved messaging, students, families and staff can help share who we are, along with their personal success stories, in a way that supports our mission."

SMCS President, Helen Englebert and the SMCS Board of Trustees understand the need to share our mission and celebrate all of the great opportunities available on a much wider scale. Our system's academics, co-curricular activities and faith-based approach to education combine to form our philosophy toward developing students to be better prepared for what they will encounter in the future.

You will see updated touches moving forward in our messaging and communications. Consistently sharing the SMCS mission is vital to share because it defines the reason for our existence.

SMCS MISSION

Preparing and inspiring students to lead meaningful lives, rooted in the teachings of Christ in our Catholic tradition.

SMCS VISION

To be celebrated as the school system where students discover and develop their God-given talents and experience success through learning, faith and service.

SMCS VALUES

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE through dedicated teachers, smaller class sizes, nationally recognized programs, state of the art facilities and technology.

FAITH AND MORAL VALUES integrated into curriculum and school life to serve others with compassion and integrity.

INCLUSION where we welcome and respect all students, families, faiths, and backgrounds in a supportive and safe community.

SELF-DISCOVERY AND PERSONAL GROWTH in a vibrant environment promoting life-long learning.

STEWARDSHIP by sharing God-given gifts to positively influence an ever-changing world.

SMCS PROMISE

As a member of the St. Mary Catholic Schools community, every student will have the opportunity to:

ACHIEVE ACADEMIC SUCCESS through the commitment of dedicated teachers and staff who are invested in students' academic development and take extra measures to help students attain their highest potential.

DISCOVER AND DEVELOP THEIR FAITH to live as a dynamic disciple of Christ.

BE PART OF A SUPPORTIVE AND SAFE COMMUNITY where parents, students, faculty, and staff are valued and respected in our school community.

EXPLORE THEIR UNIQUE PASSIONS and curiosities through enriching experiences and a diverse selection of co-curricular opportunities.

EXPERIENCE AN IDEAL LEARNING ENVIRONMENT through best-in-class facilities and technology to facilitate collaborative learning and interactive programming.

LEARN IN AN INCLUSIVE ENVIRONMENT with an expectation of respect and kindness for others.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EXPERTISE

This past year, SMCS made it a priority to enhance our already strong early childhood program (P3 & K4). Led by Principal Tina Fairweather, the Early Childhood Environment Rating Scale (ECERS) was utilized, which is a classroom assessment tool designed to measure the quality of group programs by collecting data through classroom observations and staff interviews. The assessment is a 43-item rating scale organized into seven environmental subscales. Our scores were good but we identified areas for improvement and as a result, all classrooms received new science materials including new sensory and light-up tables.

Additionally, every early childhood classroom received a facelift with brand new state of the art furniture! The furniture is bright, energetic and made with all natural woods. This furniture brings desired continuity between our classrooms. It is important that the look of our classroom match the level of care and education our early childhood students are receiving at SMCS. "It's the feeling you get the first moment you step into the building, there is a warmth you don't find other places," says Meghan Foster, SMCSH early childhood parent.

We determined a need for full day 4-K, which is new for 2019-20. We discovered very few facilities offer this option. Students have the continuity of being with the same teacher for the entire day and it gives working families peace of mind.

Our early childhood programs are housed in each of the SMCS Elementary Schools. Students have access to outdoor playgrounds, school libraries, updated technology, school gyms and older student role models. Use of our elementary specialized teachers in the areas of art, music, phy-ed and library are available to our new full day 4K students.

Our dedicated, energetic and highly qualified faculty, all of whom possess Wisconsin licensure or required Wisconsin Registry certification, have created an environment that fosters social skills, cooperation, manners and self-worth. Enhancing these character-building foundations, academic readiness is also promoted through reading programs and other related skills of learning, speaking, and writing. Our WRISA (Wisconsin Religious and Independent Schools Association) accredited program also provides hands-on curriculum options in the areas of mathematics, science and physical development through large and small motor activities.

To ensure a well-rounded start to their academic futures, fieldtrips are planned to expand the curriculum beyond the school walls; social skills, cooperation, manners and respect for others are incorporated into the classroom environment and daily expectations; holidays, traditions and different cultures are taught and celebrated. The environment is further enhanced with faith development nurtured by modeling Catholic values. "We appreciate the values we try to emphasize at home are consistent with the values that the teachers focus on at school," says Sarah Champa, SMCS early childhood parent.

Our Early Childhood program is the gateway to our fabulous system. We did our homework, we listened and we made adjustments. I believe we have set ourselves up to spark an interest in our students to be lifelong learners in a Catholic environment that fosters positive values and attitudes.

- Kelly Beisenstein-Weiss,
SMCS Director of Admissions

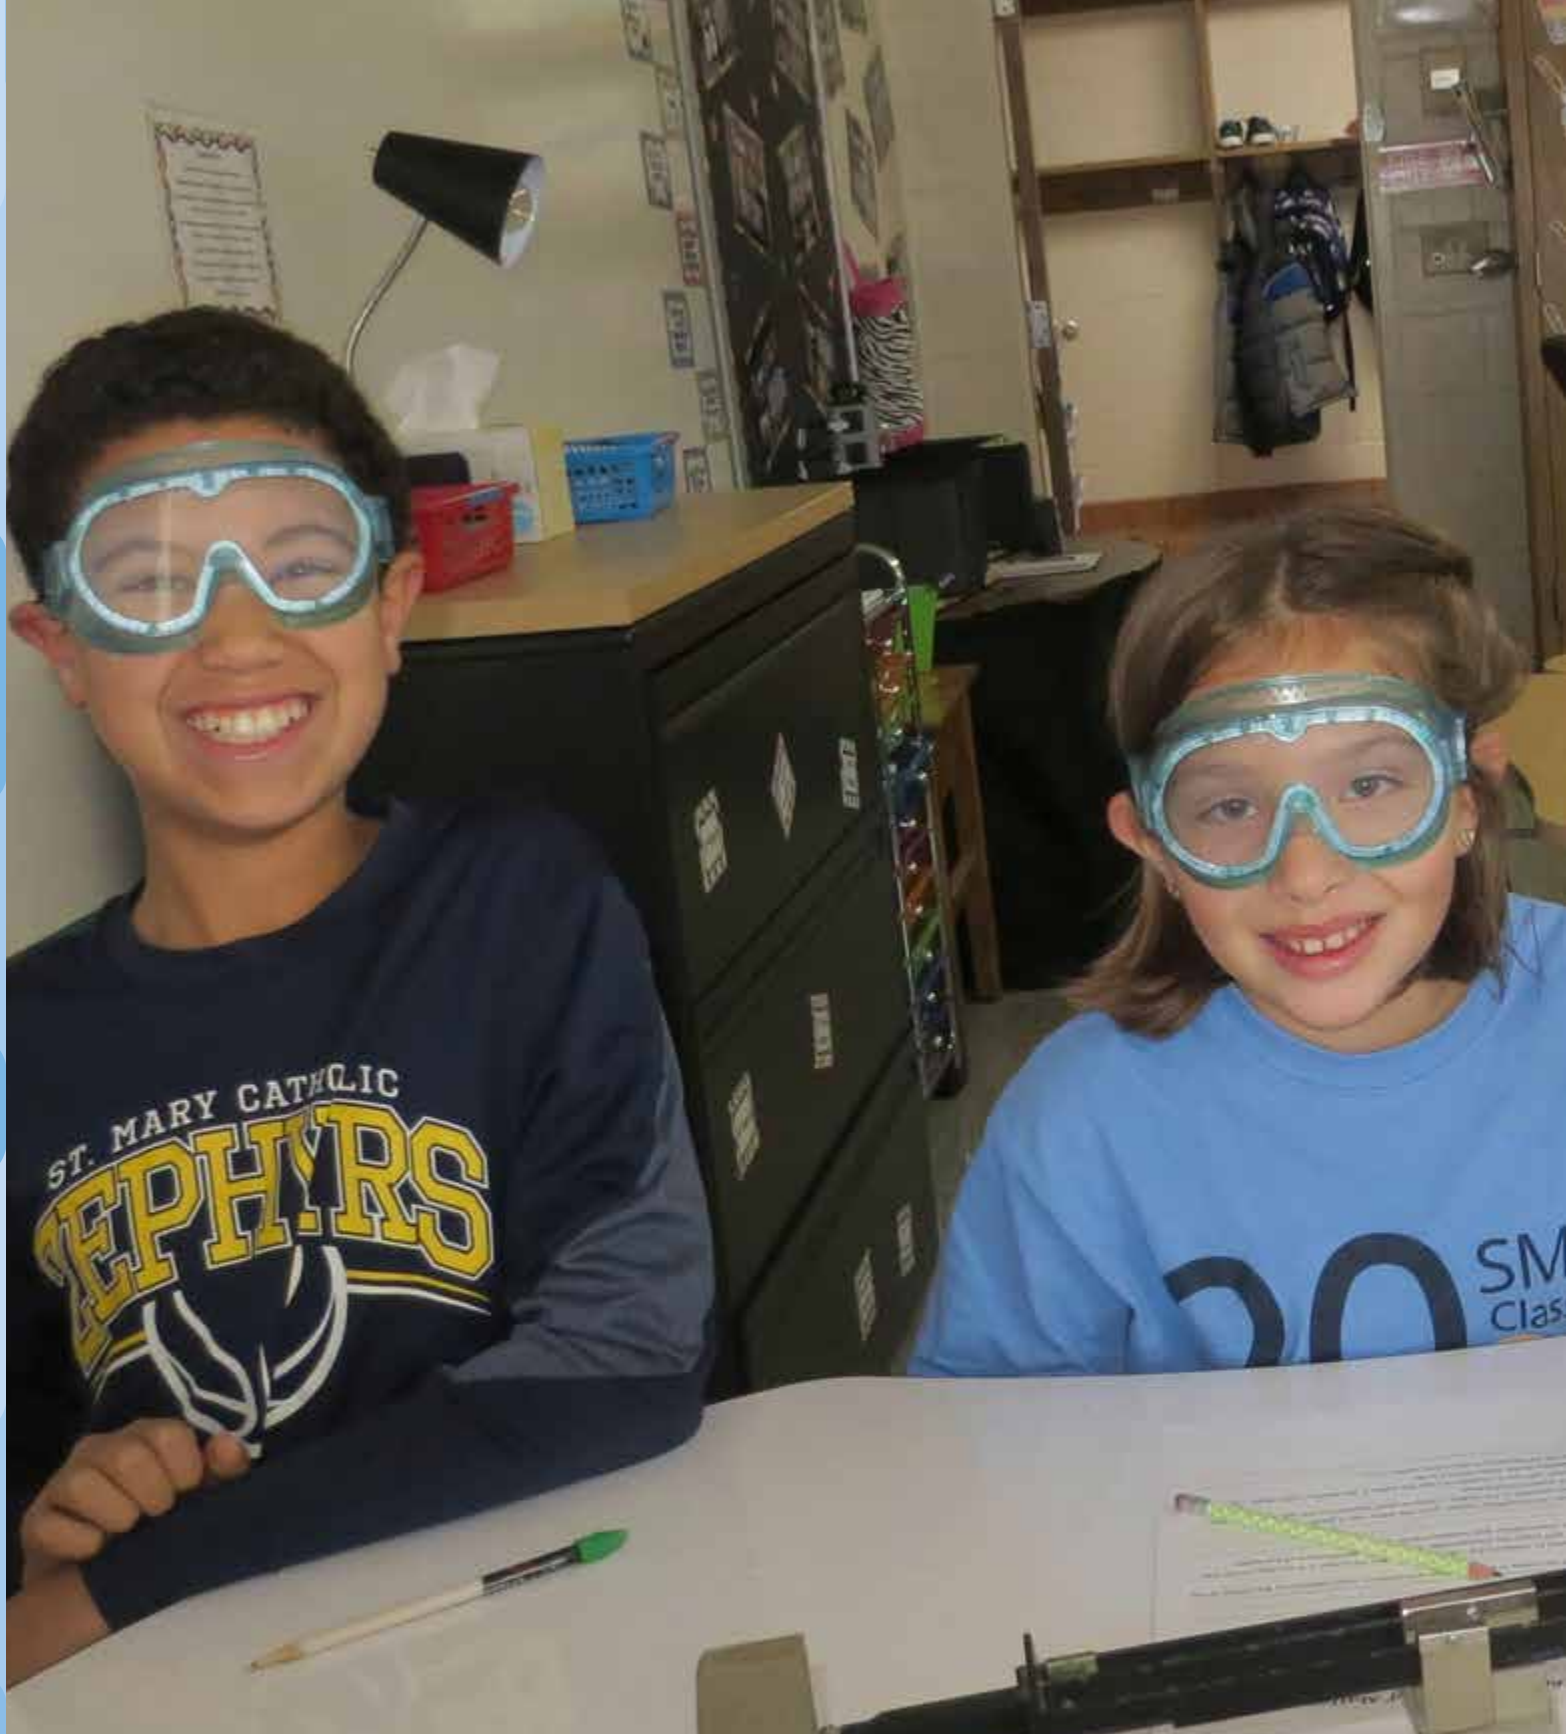

As in all SMCS buildings, maintaining a safe environment for every child is a top priority. While wanting to allow easy access for family members, school entrances are locked and have security systems that allow visitors and guests' admission into the buildings.

Each day the school buildings are open at 7:15 a.m. for student drop-off. Teachers and staff supervise the students until classes begin. Extended learning (11:00 a.m. -3:00 p.m.) is available for all half day students as needed and SMCS offers a nutritious lunch program that provides hot, well-balanced meals. After school care is available to families, who would like additional childcare when schools are dismissed until 5:30 pm. In addition to traditional after-school care, we offer enrichment classes (karate, art, dance and more).

We work with families individually to transition to K-12. SMCS participates in the Wisconsin Parental Choice Program (WPCP) and works to make a K-12 education affordable for every family. SCRIP can be used to reduce tuition costs. Approximately 30% of SMCS families participate in SCRIP.

As a result of our efforts, 2019-20 early childhood enrollment numbers are up! As in all things we do, we will continue to strive to do our best to prepare and inspire students to lead meaningful lives, rooted in the teachings of Christ in our Catholic tradition.

SMCS

AQUINAS PROGRAM

New to the SMCS educational model last year, the SMCS Aquinas Program debuted. For these students in grades 3-5, their self-directed and inter-disciplinary activities take place in a multi-age classroom within the St. Mary Elementary campus. Developed to meet the educational needs of those who will thrive in a project-based environment led by a teacher certified in gifted-and-talented education, the SMCS Aquinas Program provides unique opportunities for students to work through challenges in ways that suit their personalities and learning styles.

An emphasis is placed on giving students more responsibility of their learning and the ability to work at their own pace; thereby teaching them how to prioritize and improve their time management skills. The concept of in-depth analysis of a situation and collaborative brainstorming to provide solutions is encouraged and practiced on a daily basis. In addition to independent study, working in small groups and project-based learning, students also integrate with their age peers in a variety of ways throughout the day (such as band, world languages, lunch and the all-important recesses).

Activities that promote this type of learning include:

- Creating, designing, conducting experiments and drafting conclusions for a science fair project
- Attending a self-advocacy workshop and then making a presentation to the rest of the class about what they learned
- Global Read Aloud: collaborating via Skype with other students to participate in activities related to the same book
- Environmental learning: attending a science fair at a weather station, field trip to a landfill and recycling center

In April 2019, a field trip to Miller Park allowed the students the see various science experiments that showed how different parts of weather affect environment. For example, a demonstration showed how dangerous hail is by taking a windshield and a wooden door and sending ping-pong balls through a machine that causes them to go as fast as hail can. After the presentation put on by the meteorologist, the students were able to walk around and visit different exhibits at the science fair, such as learning about the black hole and electricity. They were then able to enjoy a bit of the Brewer game before heading home.

Stacy Sweetalla, SMCS Aquinas Program coordinator and teacher is excited about the program, "This year we are introducing a few new activities that promote collaborative learning and results-based outcomes, such as planning and implementing a fundraising plan for new playground equipment. Another classroom addition will be the Genius Hour where students choose a topic that interests them and they research the topic, create a comprehensive presentation and present their findings to the class."

The 2019-20 school year has produced a bump in enrollment with students eager to learn in this amazing, innovative program.

Additional information about the SMCS Aquinas Program:

The SMCS Aquinas Program offers specialized instruction for high ability students in grades 3-5. Students work at a higher pace while digging deeper into the content to gain greater knowledge and depth.

SMCS Aquinas Students:

- Have higher abstract logical reasoning skills
- Manipulate information about a topic in order to draw unique inferences
- Thrive on complexity in the curriculum
- Engage intellectually and have unique, original ideas
- Flourish in a challenging environment led by a certified gifted and talented teacher

The program is open to students who apply, complete the assessment process, and are admitted into the program. Potential participants will have demonstrated the ability to set and work toward goals and to work independently on tasks at hand. Invitations for admission are based upon standardized assessment results, prior completion of classroom projects, and administrator recommendation.

To learn more about the evaluation process, please visit the SMCS website at smcatholicschools.org or inquire with one of the SMCS Elementary School principals.

PROJECT
LEAD THE WAY (PLTW)

Teaching students how to adapt and embrace the ever-evolving subject of science can be a challenge at any grade level.

When SMCS adopted the Project Lead The Way (PLTW) project-based curriculum four years ago, it was implemented in grades 3-5, but we prepared to expand the initiative into all grade levels over time. It is now fully integrated in grades K-12.

The national program focuses on providing a hands-on understanding of the topic of study – not relying on just lecture or video learning. “One thing that I love and appreciate about Project Lead The Way is that it is constantly improving, pushing and morphing to identify what’s coming up next and provide new ways to change the way we all learn science,” says Jill Ahles, SMCS Middle School Principal and PLTW Administrator.

SMCS has had a long and successful VEX program history. PLTW provides a meaningful connection between that program, the classrooms, and other co-curriculars. For instance, through learned curriculum in the class ‘Energy and Environment’, students are able to draw connections between limited resources and sustainability.

To support this innovative and effective style of teaching, there is a core group of lead teachers who provide a network of support and training to all SMCS teachers. Stacy Sweetalla (SM), Karie Ann Zeinert (SMM), Lauren Zeineger (SG), Maggie Knecht (SMCHS) along with principal Ahles, are the lead teachers who use the train-the-trainer model to benefit fellow educators. To ensure the continued success and funding for Project Lead the Way, there is a working advisory group that focuses on financial support through sponsorships and other funding models, as well as guiding the implementation and training logistics.

PLTW class topics vary between grade levels but cover a broad range of science themes ranging from human anatomy, animal and environment, flight and space, to computer and medical science.

SMCS President Helen Englebert envisioned PLTW as a foundational platform on which SMCS is able to build an integrated STEM program. Principal Ahles believes this approach provides a vehicle to get updated and future-focused science programming, figuratively and literally, into the hands of all students.

Dear Friends and Families of SMCS,

Dear Friends and Families of SMCS,

St. Mary Catholic Schools was founded with the philosophy that every family that desires a Catholic education for their child should receive one. This belief holds true today and thanks to the generosity of our donors and volunteers, we continue to thrive with the ability to make faith the cornerstone of the exceptional education we offer our students.

2018-19 donor financial support assisted in providing:

- A stunning and safety conscious $220,000 remodel of the high school front office
- $37,000 in funds for spirit wear and professional attire for both students and staff to promote SMCS pride
- A second investment of almost $95,000 in our literacy program
- The addition of an engineering class to the high school as well as an additional Energy and the Environment Module for 8th grade science through $24,000 in Project Lead The Way donations
- A $19,000 vibrant new and user-friendly website, designed to provide a comprehensive overview of our mission and useful information
